DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figures 1-3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.121(d)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the admitted prior art as set forth on pages 1-3 of the instant specification, in view of Bauer, USP 4,304,749.

The admitted prior art substantially teaches the basic claimed process of molding a microfluidic device having at least one interconnect comprising an elastomeric portion, a substrate and the interconnect connected to the elastomeric portion wherein the elastomeric portion and the substrate together define a fluid passage. See pages 1-3 of the instant specification.

However the admitted prior art requires baking and does not set forth a curable contracting resin as claimed.

The added secondary reference teaches as conventional the feature of forming a fluidic structure using a polymeric material that does not require baking, having contracting properties as claimed. A cover 23 and substrate 23 are provided adjacent one another such that there is provided a fluid passage therebetween. A thermoset plastic resin is injected into the mold cavity to encapsulate the assembly, such that it contracts upon solidification. See col. 5, lines 1-15.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to so provide a contractable resin as shown in the added reference, when performing the process set forth in the admitted prior art, for avoiding baking of the resin, and for achieving an encapsulated device securely assembled.

With respect to claims 2-5, note that the admitted prior art shows a glass substrate, and fluid tubing; note that the tubing claimed in claims 3-5 are deemed functional equivalents of one another; should applicant argue that such are not, a species election will be required.

With respect to claims 6-7, note that the resins claimed are equivalent to those materials disclosed in the applied prior art.

With respect to claim 8, note that both references teach the limitation claimed; see for example, the added reference, figure 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by admitted prior art as set forth on pages 1-3 of the instant specification.

The admitted prior art substantially teaches the basic claimed process and device that results from the process of molding a microfluidic device having at least one interconnect comprising an elastomeric portion, a substrate and the interconnect connected to the elastomeric portion wherein the elastomeric portion and the substrate together define a fluid passage. See pages 1-3 of the instant specification.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. USP's 6585939; 6787088; 2003/0214057; 2002/0134907; 2004/0178537; 5443890.
